

Criminal Defense

Comprehensive and Effective Criminal Defense Representation

Possessing over 60 years of collective experience, Dickie, McCamey & Chilcote's criminal defense attorneys are proven trial litigators dedicated to protecting our clients' futures, liberties, and assets. The members of our Criminal Defense Group rely on the skills they acquired as former district attorneys, Army Judge Advocates, judicial law clerks, educators, and special counsel to defend and advocate for our clients' rights and interests.

Dickie McCamey's criminal defense lawyers handle matters in state and federal courts in Pennsylvania and West Virginia. Our team of attorneys has an in-depth understanding of criminal procedure, the rules of evidence, and local practice that allow them to navigate the criminal justice system efficiently, competently and successfully. Most importantly, our attorneys work with you, the client, to obtain the best possible outcome.

At Dickie McCamey, our attorneys have extensive experience defending executives, professionals, athletes, public officials, and other individuals in high-profile criminal cases. In these types of matters, we work closely with our clients to protect their privacy and preserve their personal and professional reputations. We know that managing publicity is essential, and we will do everything we can to keep the case and our client out of the media spotlight.
